

Prof. Stefan Schwab – Vice President of EuroHYP (2011-2012)

Prof. Stefan Schwab is Professor and Chair of the Department of Neurology at the Friedrich-Alexander-University Erlangen-Nürnberg, Germany. Prof. Schwab has been the Principal Investigator for many hypothermia stroke trials conducted in the past.

Prof. Schwab's main research and clinical interests are hypothermia; stroke diagnostics and MRI; treatment of cerebral ischaemia and brain lesions; neuroprotection; regulation of blood pressure and pharmacokinetics.

Prof. Schwab has authored and co-authored more than 200 publications on cerebrovascular diseases in journals such as Stroke, Lancet Neurology, Cerebrovascular Diseases, Critical Care Medicine, Experimental Neurology, Neurosurgery, Nervenarzt, the European Journal of Neurology, the Journal of Neurology, Neurosurgery and Psychiatry, and Neurology

He is the president of the German Neurocritical Care Society and a founding member and member of the American Neurocritical Care Society. He received several national and international awards for excellence in stroke research. He received funding from the DFG and BmBF and hold several projects in the German "Kompetenznetz Schlaganfall", which was funded from the BmBF.
